Game Objective

As the most elite and newest members of the Government's recently created unit BH-24 your job is simple; you are to protect the President and other key members of Government from foreign attack by genetically engineered super viruses. If a person is attacked by a rouge viral agent you will be called upon to command the recently created N.E.R.D. or Nano Emersion Recovery Device and pilot it through the infected person's body taking out the viruses and saving their life.

Playing a Game

As the Commander of a N.E.R.D you will have the option to shoot, dodge, and speed your way through the infected persons body. Press the joystick fire button to launch your attack. Move the N.E.R.D side to side by moving your joystick left and right. But watch out! The viruses can and will rush you. If you get hit the viral agent will kill and you will die so be careful. You score points by shooting the waves of viruses then defeating the Master Virus. Once you have killed the Master Virus you will be taken to another area of the body to eradicate the rest of the viruses.

Tips

- Watch out for the Master Virus it will shoot at you.
- If the viruses are getting to fast for you, wait untill they start to rush at you because they will be attacking at a slower speed and be easier to kill.
- Take some time to study the Viruses attack patterns, and how your N.E.R.D.S movement affect their patterns.
