

CITATION: Medal of Merit

For superior tanksmanship and courage above and beyond the call of duty in the face of withering enemy fire

SITUATION: Condition Red emergency. Military's most sophisticated defense system--the dreaded and lethal Robot Tank Division--gone haywire. All western sectors endangered.

RESPONSE: Cited commander guided squadron into the brunt of cybernated rampage. Personally responsible for destruction of 48 (four squadrons) of the computerized, mindless monsters.

With a display of icy nerve, the commander braved mercurial elements--rain, night, fog--as well as the crippling near-hits of enemy rocket fire.

Facing the robotic foe on a barren plain, the commander stemmed its relentless advance toward civilian metropolitan centers.

RESULT: Civilization slumbers peacefully tonight.

Enclosed is the prestigious Medal of Merit patch. Activision World Headquarters sends congratulations and advises the commander to wear it proudly.
